

The first, "Prayer", approximately 8 square feet mural, adorns the "East" wall of the lodge above the chair of K.S. The all-seeing Eye can be viewed from in-front of the S.W.'S chair looking east and through the "G" hanging from the sealing over the Altar.

The remaining three are huge canvasses in solid walnut frames approximately four feet wide by ten feet high.

"Labour" is mounted above the Senior Warden's chair. "Refreshment" adorns the "south" wall above the J.W.'s chair, and "Sleep" is placed in the centre of the "north" wall. Go visit.

Robertson Lodge No. 292 G.R.C.

On Saturday January 09, 2010 Bro. Joerg W. Butscher, Secretary, accompanied V.W. Bro. Richard Carveth on a fraternal visit to Robertson Lodge No 292 G.R.C. and I discovered a Masonic Art treasure.

Since 2002 Robertson Lodge No. 292 G.R.C. has resided at the Aurora Masonic Temple which it shares with Rising Sun No. 129 G.R.C. and Delta No. 634 Lodge G.R.C. This Building was originally constructed in 1877 as a Methodist Episcopal Church. It was purchased in 1885 by Rising Sun Lodge which has continually owned and occupied the building to this day.

In the early 1900's four magnificent oil paintings by Brother J.T.Dowling of Uxbridge, Ontario, were added to the walls of the lodge to illustrate the Proper Objects of a Masonic daily life – namely Prayer, Labour, Refreshment, and Sleep. > continued on page 8

To advance the study and understanding of Freemasonry and to encourage research into the significant impact fraternalism in general and Freemasonry in particular have made on society in Ontario over the last three hundred years, the Grand Master's Project (2009–2011) will establish a fund to create a Centre for Masonic Studies in conjunction with a University in Ontario. In an age when Freemasonry has been fictionalized and trivialized in popular culture, to gain credibility in the academic community, would restore the true historical perspective of the fraternity.

This proposed partnership between the Grand Lodge A.F. & A.M. of Canada in the Province of Ontario and Brock University, St. Catharines, would honour the name of R.W. Bro. Charles A. Sankey (1905-2009). Dr. Sankey served as Chancellor of the University 1969-1974. A renowned Masonic scholar, he was active in all the concordant bodies of Masonry – Ancient & Accepted Scottish Rite (33°), Royal Order of Scotland, Royal Arch Masons. His extensive collection of rare Masonic books and papers is in the Special Collections of the James Gibson Library at Brock University, providing a rich resource for research scholars and students. To initiate the project, a series of lectures is planned beginning in the spring of 2010.

All contributions should be made through the Masonic Foundation of Ontario, Project Number 2937 (905) 527 – 9105;

Wisdom is one of the three pillars that support a Masonic lodge. Although there are many references to wisdom an adequate explanation is seldom found. We are told in the book of Job 12:12-13 that "with the ancient is wisdom; and in length of days understanding. With him is wisdom and strength, he hath counsel and understanding." In I Kings 4:30-31 it is stated that "Solomon's wisdom excelled the wisdom of all the children of the east country and all the wisdom of Egypt. For he was wiser than all men ... and his fame was in all the nations round about." In verse 10 of Psalm 111 there is "The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom..."

In St. Augustine's writings can be found "patience is the companion of wisdom." Montaigne, in his essays, says "You can be erudite with the knowledge of others; you can be wise only with your own wisdom." Pericles's funeral oration given in Athens about 430 BCE tells the audience that "Ours is a simple love of beauty and a manly love of wisdom." The word "wisdom" is used quite freely in these, and many more examples. But what is wisdom? And where does one find it? It is suggested that it could be found in Masonry, because Masonry is a sanctuary, a place to breathe, a place to think quietly, and a place to grow wise. It is clear that "wisdom" is not a thing of itself, but rather a use of other means and materials gathered over a lifetime. Wisdom is using the resources of knowledge, of experience and of good judgment; it is, therefore, the action, the proper use of the tools of the mind, brain and soul. The desire to learn is the beginning of wisdom and so it is very significant that we speak of becoming wise, for wisdom is a creative energy, and its fruits are temperance, fortitude, prudence and justice. The human heart is like a bottomless well; it is always thirsty and searching for the quietude that comes only after the heat and turmoil of living has been overcome.

It is certain that the key to civilization is not technology, but the wisdom that comes from ample leisure. As it is humanly impossible to know all the facts, to count the sand of the sea or the drops of rain; it becomes the task of wisdom, therefore, to recognize our limitations and faults. Part of wisdom is knowing when one cannot be wise. One cannot think much less develop new ideas, unless one has units of comparison and wisdom provides the experience and right judgment for this. Intelligence all by itself is useless, but added to energy and willingness it becomes formidable; combined with knowledge it has no limits.

It is apparent that wisdom is a lonely personal affair and is similar to the loneliness of the leader, for one has stepped beyond the limits of other men and stands apart. Masonry can provide a path to wisdom, along which one meets the happy companionship, the friendliness, the morality and the spiritual values that finally blossom into wisdom. A learned man cannot take you into the sphere of his own wisdom, but can only propel you along the path and leave you at the door to your own wisdom. Many of us remain outside that door, but those who enter are blessed with abundance.

In wisdom there is an intelligent, lucid and holy spirit; wisdom is knowledge, but not knowledge for its own sake, but knowledge which helps to widen the horizon and deepen the communication between man and man. Masonry may be termed a progressive science but it is also a reflective science, a place to think, to become human, to consider one's fellowman, not as an integer, but as flesh and blood, and, above all, as a stepping stone to wisdom.
